LONE HIGHWAYMAN PLAN TO CORNER ROBS EXPRESS CO.

Bound and Gagged Night Chief Clerk and Assistant, Putting Them in Unoccupied Room.

Much Paper Money-Scattle Scene of Robbery.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 11.-Binding and gagging the night chief clerk and his assistant and carrying them to an unoccupied part of the building, a lone hold-up man robbed the office of the Great Northern Express company at the King street station early this morning, securing several sacks of gold and silver and a large amount of paper money, the total amount running into the thousands.

while A. P. White, the assistant, was out to lunch, W. Simonson heard a knock at the door. Opening it, he was confronted by a masked man, who covered him with a revolver and ordered Simonson to open the safe. Simonson says that he complied with the robber's demands and opened all the compartments of the safe where money is kept. As soon as this was done the robber threw Simonson to the floor, bound and gagged him and then carried him to another part of the building. him to another part of the building. where he covered his prisoner with an

ALL CARRIAGES

"Americans" Making an Effort to U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Secure Vehicles for Election Day.

Storm Blowing Fiercely Over Florida Got Sacks of Gold and Silver-Also Fat Campaign Fund is Squeezed From Saloons and City Employes and Money Is No Object.

> In an effort to secure a corner on carriages, the "Americans" are engaging all the teams and automobiles they can lay their hands on for election day. They have sent out representatives not Salt Lake county, and are by contract have a representative who is canvassing the towns and cities. Under the agreement, the vehicles are to be on hand the night before election. At that time the drivers will be assigned to districts in the city. Each carriage will be accompanied by a ward heeler and canvasser who will make a house to house canvass and take the voters to the polls. The "Americans" are twings 7 a day for the use of the car. paying $7 a day for the use of the car-riages and from $50 to $75 a day for the automobiles, according to the size of the machine.

Their campaign fund has grown so rapidly with the contributions which have been wring from the saloonmen and the city employes, that the committee in charge of this work thinks that it can hire all the available carriages and automobiles in the city and vicinity, it is estimated that $10,000 will be spent to establish a corner on the market.

ARE GETTING DESPERATE. The "Americans" feel that they are facing a desperate situation and are willing to meet it at all hazards. In many respects this characterizes the dministration they have given to Salt payers.

It is stated that Street Supervisor Jake T. Raleigh, in order to save his official head, will employ all the city's teams that are available and the men who drive the sprinkling wagons will be taken off the water-wagon for a day and their teams placed on vehicles on election day to take voters to the polls. The "Ameicans" have completed the canvass of the districts and the committee is figuring up the totals. They claim the city by 5,900 votes in spite of the result of the county election last year in which they lost about that many votes.

"AMERICAN" PROTEST

At the session of the county commissioners held this morning H. J. Dinniny, Frank Christensen and T. N. Norrell appeared in behalf of the "American" party, protesting against the appointment by the commissioners of Republican registration agents in districts in which the commissioners in the commissioners of the commission the appointment by the commissioners of Republican registration agents in districts in which they claimed "American" registry agents were entitled to appointment. It appears that in the election held last June these registry officers were appointed in certain districts, and the "American" committee called the commissioners to appoint members of their party in the places filled by members of other parties The commissioners took the matter un-

The commissioners took the matter under advisement.

The matter of charges made by a morning paper to the effect that hundreds of names of "American" party voters were left off the registration lists was also investigated by the delegation, but they found that where the names of voters were omitted from the lists the names had not been marked "voted" as required by law. The comlists the names had not been marked "voted" as required by law. The committee satisfied itself that this was the case in each instance, thus completely exontrating the registry agents. It is therefore highly necessary that each voter should see to it personally that his name is on the registration lists, otherwise he may not be entitled to vote on election day. The first day of vote on election day. The first day of registration occurs tomorrow,

BACK FROM CONVENTION.

General Manager J. S. Wells and ther officials of the street railway system of the Utah Light & Railway ompany who attended the street railway convention at Denver, returned resterday. They report not only an interesting, but highly instructive convention. Every appliance known to street railway operation up to date was on exhibition, even to entire street-cars ready to run, so that many valua-ble ideas were gained by all the delcgates. It is interesting to note that the Salt Lake officials found to their gratification that in comparison with eastern street railway systems, the system obtaining in Salt Lake City is fully abreast with the best of them.

When Candidate for Mayor Probably Will be Selected-Both Nominees Prepared to Resign.

With only five more days in which to file a fusion ticket under the law, between the Democrats and Republicans tonight in a final effort to bring the combined forces together and place one ticket in the field. The city committees will meet tonight in their raspective headquarters and the matter of fusion will undoubtedly be settled.

The Republicans after withdrawing their committee from the conference see where they acted unwisely, it is said, and will entertain the proposition which is being made by the Citizens. The Democrats who have been willing eretofore to lend their support to the fusion movement are still willing to enter into negotiations. As the proposition now stands, the selection of the mayor has been left to the Citizens. If they choose a Repub-lican for mayor, that party will have one more nominee to select and the Democrats three nominees to select. If the Citizens choose a Democrat for mayor, they can choose one more nominee and the Republicans the remaining three candidates.

The councilmanic ticket will be left to the different nunicipal wards. The ward organizations can get together and name a fusion ticket upon which they can agree.

The Citizens' committee will meet tonight and choose the candidate for mayor. If the candidate is not acceptable to both parties, it is probable that no further move will be made to bring about a fusion ticket. WILLING TO WITHDRAW.

TRIO OF HUNTERS MEET HARD LUCK

On the Trail of Local Nimrods.

COMMITTEE MEETS TONIGHT. ELK MEAT CAME VERY HIGH.

After Killing Their Game, They Were Arrested and Had to Buy It-They Learned a Lesson.

"Hunting in Idaho without a license is expensive pastime, as a trio of good fellows from Salt Lake found out last night when grabbed by Game Warden Stephens at the local station and fined. They had three elk and one deer in their possession and when caught in open violation of the law, pleaded gullty and paid a fine of $150 each. The total amount was $459, the $9 being for costs. Following the proceedings the gentlemen took the matter in a good natured light, and figured out that with the expenses of the trip and the fines, their game had cost them about $2 a pound. They had in the neighbrhood of Thus saith the Post, an Idaho Falls newspaper, in its issue of yesterday

The Post goes into lengthy detail re garding the hunt of the Salt Lake sportsmen and quotes Game Warden Stephens as saying that for some time he had his eye on a trio of sports hunting within his bailiwick. He was convinced that they were not Idaho residents and as such entitled to hunt with a license coating $1. A license for non-residents awould have cost them $25 apiece, or, as the situation resolved itself, it would have been cheaper by $384 if they had taken out the license as they should have done. But to seve they had taken out the license as they should have done. But to save money, perhaps, it was thought better to take the cheaper license and the chance which appears to have gone

WARDEN ON THE JOB.

WARDEN ON THE JOB.

The hunt was being pursued near Ashton, and after the guarry was bagged, it was quietly loaded on to the train. The hunters also took the train. They did not know it, but the game warden was also a passenger. At Idaho Palls the party was arrested. The names were given as A. C. Perkins, a large furniture manufacturer of Battle Creek. P. A. forenson of the I X. L. Furniture company of this city, and W. L. Campbell, also of this city, and W. L. Campbell, also of this city. A portion of their game catch had been expressed to this city and the remainder was being shipped in choice cuts as baggage. A crate of antiers was also among the shipment. All the game and the antiers were confiscated by the warden.

The Post says;

"The prisoners were taken before the court of Judge Dandels, where County Attorney W. L. McConnell prepared the complaint. Attorney B. J. Briggs acted as counsel for the hunters. Upon the showing each of the hunters pleaded guilty to the charge of hunting without a license and paid a fine of $150. A check was given for the total amount of the fines and costs, $459. The prisoners were released and were enabled oners were released and were enabled to take the train home last night. The game that was confiscated was sold to them under the law, and the warden felt a little compassion for the sportsmen, all of whom were good-natured, though somewhat aggravated, over the occurrence. They were sports right, and paid the price as though they were accustomed to that sort of thing."

The prosecution was on a count charging "no license," the fact that they had Idaho licenses not affecting the case in that the hunters were non-residents. Under the circumstances, the warden declares, the three got off exceedingly easy, as many other counts

They stated that they had not been spared on the trip, either, but had encountered a good many genteel hold-up grafts promoted by Montana and other guides who are operating in the hunting country north of here, but they were out after game and dug up every time an individual whispered that he needed the price.

iled to come before the buildings and cation, which holds its meeting at 3 'clock this afternoon, is the proposition to ask the taxpayers of the city to authorize bonds to the amount of haif million dollars for the purpose of milding a high school.

The matter came up some time ago when the members of the board visited the high school at the invitation of Principal Exton, and saw for the ,100 students attending the school, and the buildings contain rooms and equip-ment to properly accommodate only about 600 students. There are 200 or 300 mid-year graduates from the grades who will apply at the high school for admission at the beginning of the year

Represent the United States As Minister at Pekin.

SOME ONE HAS BLUNDERED.

May Result in Failure of American Diplomacy Regarding the Open Door Policy in Manchuria.

Washington, Oct. 11.-Whether or not Charles R. Crane shall proceed to Pekin in the capacity of American minthe outcome of conferences between Mr. Crane and Secy. of State Knox, who unexpectedly and rather mysteriously summoned Mr. Crane from San Francisco to Washington on the eve of his salling.

Many indications early today supported the belief that the situation in hich Mr. Crane stands is serious, and quarters presumably well informe! the belief was strengthened that Mr. Crane's connection with the diplomatic service was in a precarious con-

It was thought this morning that the natter would not be closed up today but might in fact require several days for adjustment. From the air of intense expectancy which prevailed at the state department, however, it was evident that any hour might bring the situation to a crisis,

Mr. Crane arrived from San Francisco late yesterday afternoon and was closeted until far into the night with Secy. Knox and his special counsel former Solicitor-General William M. Hoyt, but nothing authentic was obtainable as to the nature or results of that conference.

OCCASION OF RECALL. It is known now that the immediate It is known now that the minister occasion for the recall of Minister Crane was an article in the Washington special correspondence of The Chicago Record-Herald of Sept. 27. evidencing a somewhat minute acquaintance with confidential matters supprosed to be known only by responsible officials in the state department, and presumably by Mr. Crane, relative to the attitude of the United States government toward the two states government toward the two treaties recently concluded between China and Japan. That publication was highly objectionable to the state department, in that it closed the possibility of pro-test on the part of the United States against the consummation of these treatles and it is known that Secy. Knox and his associates in the department have held Minister Crane department have held Minister Crane responsible for the discosures.

These treaties, which would practically confer upon the Japanese a monopoly of mineral development of Manchuria and would also make the Japanese the virtual dictators of Chinese railway extension in Manchuria, are regarded by the state department, it is said, as destructive of the principle of the "open door" enunciated by the late Secv. Hay and enunciated by the late Secy, Hay and subscribed to by Japan in a formal agreement with Mr. Root when the latter was secretary of state.

The Chicago publication was regarded as particularly unfortunate at this time because of the purpose of the state department to have Mr. Crane ministers and ambassadors resident Pekin before any representations were made to the Japanese government.

SOME ONE BLUNDERED. Such a course is essential in order to escape the humiliating consequences that might be expected to follow a pro-test directed by the state department to Japan which would not command the support of at least a majority of the great powers other than America. the great powers other than Ame which had accepted Mr. Hay's "door" policy as binding upon them.

The great success that has so far attended the efforts of America to keep Manchuria's trade within reach, on even terms, of all of the powers is skinning out the heads for mounting surposes and taking care of the meat, packed everything nicely so that it would not occasion any trouble for the game warden and then checked most in the negotiations since the conclusion of the Russo-Japanese war the American pages. all as baggage.

Alas and alack! the ways of the sportsmen are sometimes strewn with a good many obstacles, and they were caught with the goods and cheerfully admitted the error. Their experience proved rather expensive. It was estimated that they had about a thousand pounds of meat, and taking into consideration the fact that they were out on expense for two weeks, and had paid at Pekin of considerable advantage in ister who is to represent this country at Pekin of considerable advantage to the game of diplomacy, and it may now be possible for any power to set in motion machinery that may defeat the whole project.
